for every day,
every age,
every skin

Everybody needs body care, and every body and age has its own special needs

Long-lasting moisturisation, smooth and replenishing hydration, rapid absorption and a gentle, soothing and non-tacky finish are just some of the features that consumers are looking for in their quest for beautifully soft, smooth and glowing skin.

The on-going segmentation of the body care market offers a great opportunity to engage with – and capture the loyalty of – a broad range of consumers.

Our natural and sustainable ingredients enable you to create safe and stable formulations for every need.

protection, nourishment and indulgence

Lipex SheaLight™

Action: softening, light, high spreading

Lipex SheaLight is a feather-light shea butter based emollient and a good starting point for creating light formulations for body lotions.

It combines well with different actives making it easy to formulate products for sensitive and ageing skin.

Lipex SheaLight helps produce a fresh body lotion with a light skin feel and rapid absorbency upon application to leave a unique powdery, silky effect.

Combined with low spreading emollients and butters it enables easy spreading over the body and reduces tackiness.

Lipex Bassol C™

Action: softening, moisturising, high stability

Lipex Bassol C is a clear liquid oil for improving skin feel. Made from high-quality rapeseed oil, it is oxidation-resistant and a sustainable alternative to unstable vegetable oils, mineral oils and synthetic emollients.

It helps maintain moisturisation and skin health, especially for both delicate soft infant skin and demanding mature skin.

High stability enables high-use concentrations as well as the addition of sensitive natural oils at low concentrations without risking product quality. Its low colour and odour also allow a high concentration in formulations.

Lipex L'sens™

Action: moisturising, softening, texturing

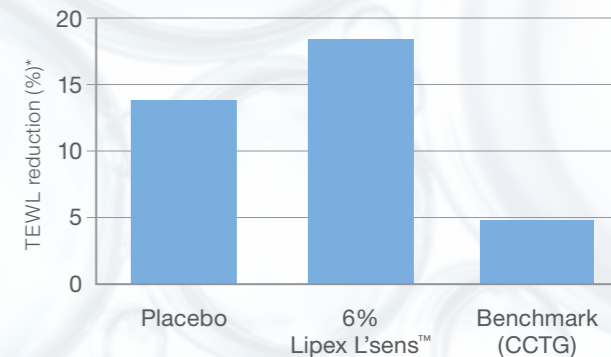

Lipex L'sens is a plant based, soft emollient that helps to improve texture in creams and lotions leaving the skin moist, silky and smooth.

It shows excellent in vivo barrier-improving properties compared with placebo and benchmark (CCTG).

A good safety profile and high stability enable long shelf life formulations.

It combines well with other natural emollients and emulsifiers as well as with most mineral oil based materials.

Lipex L'sens improves the skin barrier compared with placebo and benchmark

In vivo moisturisation study shows that the optimum concentration of Lipex L'sens is around 6%.

* TEWL reduction versus untreated skin 4 hours after application.

soft skin, gentle impact, improved livelihood

All AAK's ingredients originate from renewable and natural sources and are gently processed to high purity and stability. So when you choose our ingredients for body care formulations you buy into a range of safe, biodegradable options for making sustainable cosmetics.

But it's not just customers and end users who benefit. As part of our shea supply chain, for example, we directly support the collecting communities in West Africa, promoting women's empowerment, educating families, fighting poverty as well as helping to protect and preserve the assets for the future.

For all of us.
