Key features and benefits

- The sensitive omega fatty acids are protected against oxidation in a highly stable vegetable oil environment in order to:
 - improve the stability and shelf-life of final formulations
 - safeguard the skin functionality of the polyunsaturated fatty acids.
- Omega-6 (linoleic acid) is the dominating essential fatty acid in the skin. It is a building block for skin ceramides which play an important role in maintaining the epidermal water barrier and protecting against dryness.
- Omega-3 (linolenic acid) is renowned for its anti-inflammatory metabolites and calming, soothing skin benefits.
