Key features and benefits

- The unique fatty acid composition of Lipex Shea gives a high oxidative stability compared with standard refined shea butter.
- Stable and rapid crystallization pattern enables almost unlimited levels of use in formulations without the signs of bloom formation typically associated with standard shea butters.
- Rapid crystallization reduces the possibility of formulation instability and delivers smooth, soft formulation textures across a wide range of skin care applications.
- Moisturizing and conditioning properties deliver softening and smoothing benefits to cosmetic formulations
- The high standards governing AAK raw material guarantee a longer shelf life compared with standard refined shea butters.
